

Music at Eagle Hill Thanksgiving Weekend

Hawk Henries

Native American Flute Player and Story Teller
Saturday, November 26 (7PM)

Hawk Henries, flute player and member of the northeastern Algonquian tribe will share his gift of music and story telling at Eagle Hill in Steuben. Hawk will also show some of his magical sounding flutes, which he had carefully carved from wood.

Hawk has been composing original music and making Eastern Woodland flutes for himself and other musicians using only hand tools and fire for over twenty years.

Come hear Hawk play a wide variety of flutes. You may even hear the Didgeridoo and Mbira! He also enjoys sharing his experiences and perspectives about life in hopes of acknowledging and honoring the sacredness in each person and all cultures.

$10 per ticket

A variety of bottled beverages are now available.
